

The “power of decision” in Twilight of the Idols as a preamble to the project of the transvaluation of all values

Regiane Lorenzetti Collares*

Abstract: This paper investigates how the expression “power of decision” expressed in reference to the text Twilight of the Idols became the favorable image for the formulation of a philosophical project on the revaluation of all values. With this purpose we understand that the relationship of the Dionysian character and the difference between the notion of will to power and consciousness was the key in the composition of unique possibilities for decision in relation to modern philosophical referrals.

Keywords: Dionysian; Will; Power; Consciousness
